OUR LADY OF LOURDES HIGH SCHOOL

SHAMOKIN, PENNSYLVANIA

THE 1960 REALM

On dedication day, September, 13, His Excellency, Bishop Leech processed through the halls of the newly erected high school, echoing the words "Asperges Te" as he bestowed his blessing on the various sections of the school.

DEDICATED IN A COLORFUL CEREMONY

MOST REVEREND HENRY T. KLONOWSKI
S.T.D., V.G.
Auxiliary Bishop of Scranton

Bishop Leech blesses the crucifix in the lobby of the school. His Excellency is capably assisted by pastors of the neighboring parishes.

RIGHT REVEREND
ROBERT J. MAHER, M.A.
Diocesan Supt. of Schools

Our Most Reverend Bishop, assisted by Reverend Anthony Hebb, blesses the lobby as part of the dedication ceremony. The individual classrooms were, at the same time, blessed by the pastors of the various parishes.

The dedication ceremony began with a procession of the Hierarchy to the entrance of the school, and the presentation of the national flag by members of the American Legion. The blessing and laying of the corner stone by our beloved Bishop completed the program of outdoor activities. The procession then proceeded to the lobby of the school to continue the liturgical ceremonies.

WE WITNESS THIS GREAT TRIBUTE TO THE CATHOLIC YOUTH OF SHAMOKIN

Amidst the color and panorama of civil and liturgical ceremony, a new milestone of Catholic tradition was reached.

To the thousands of people who witnessed the dedication of Our Lady of Lourdes, the high school, stands as an impressive memorial to the generosity and faith of our Catholic people.

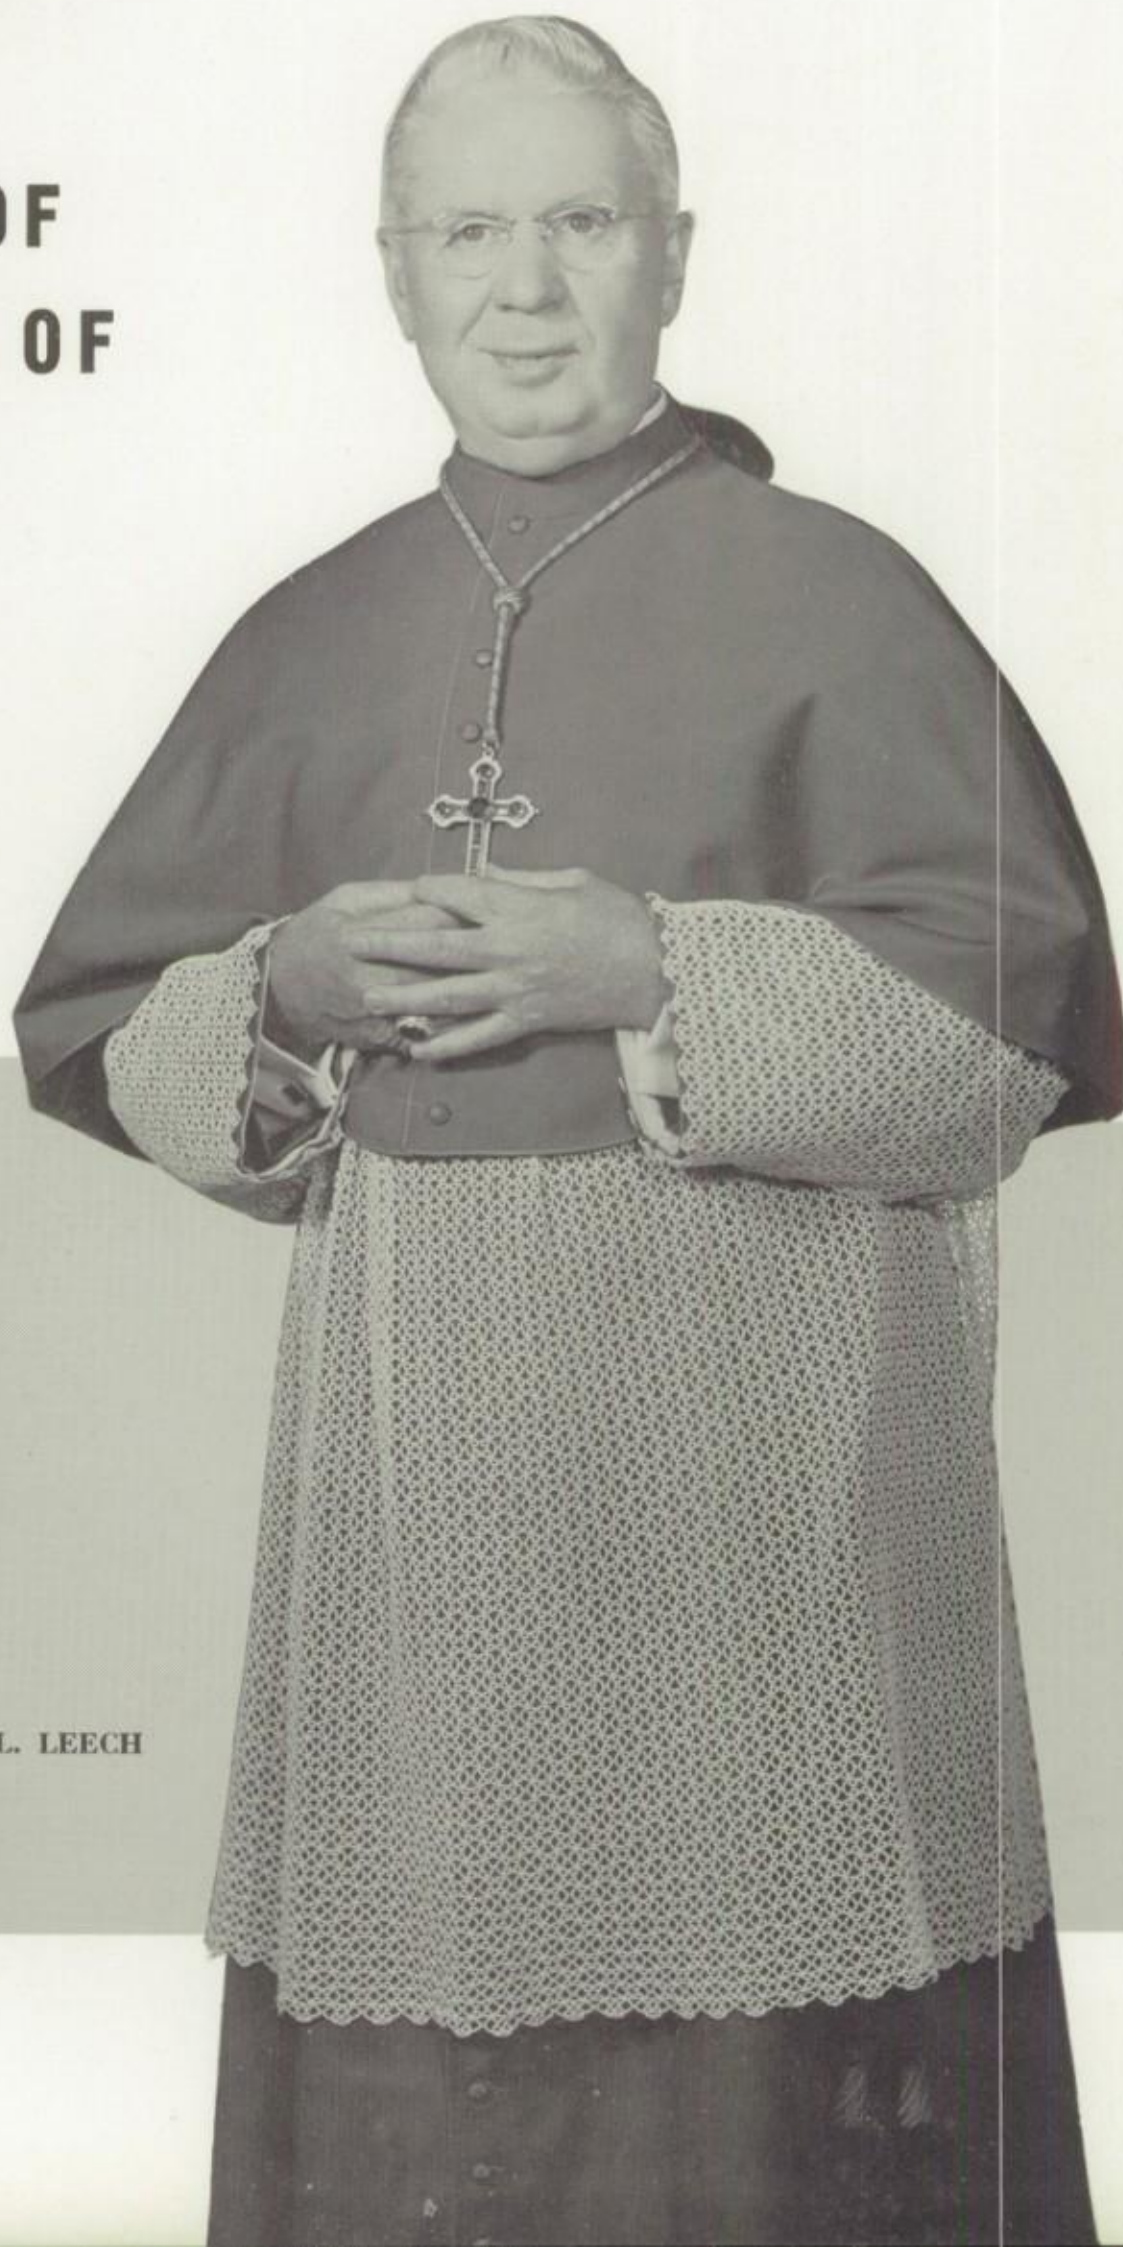

To the pastors of our parishes who burdened themselves with the additional task of maintaining our school, it is for you a lasting symbol of your zeal as a Priest of God.

To the students, Lourdes High is a monument depicting the sacrifice and ideals of their parents, relatives and friends. It is a constant admonition to adhere to the Catholic standards set by them.

We have all witnessed its dedication; we have enjoyed its security and guidance. We, students of Our Lady of Lourdes High School, express a grateful "Thank you."

INSPIRED UNDER THE LEADERSHIP OF THE DIOCESE OF HARRISBURG

THE MOST REVEREND GEORGE L. LEECH

Bishop of Harrisburg

THE MOST REVEREND LAWRENCE F. SCHOTT
D.D., V.F.
*Auxiliary Bishop of Harrisburg

Through the prayers and zeal of our Hierarchy, Catholic education in the Harrisburg Diocese has progressed. This was made evident by the dedication of three new high schools within the last year. Our sister schools in York and Lebanon share with us the joy of a new modern high school.

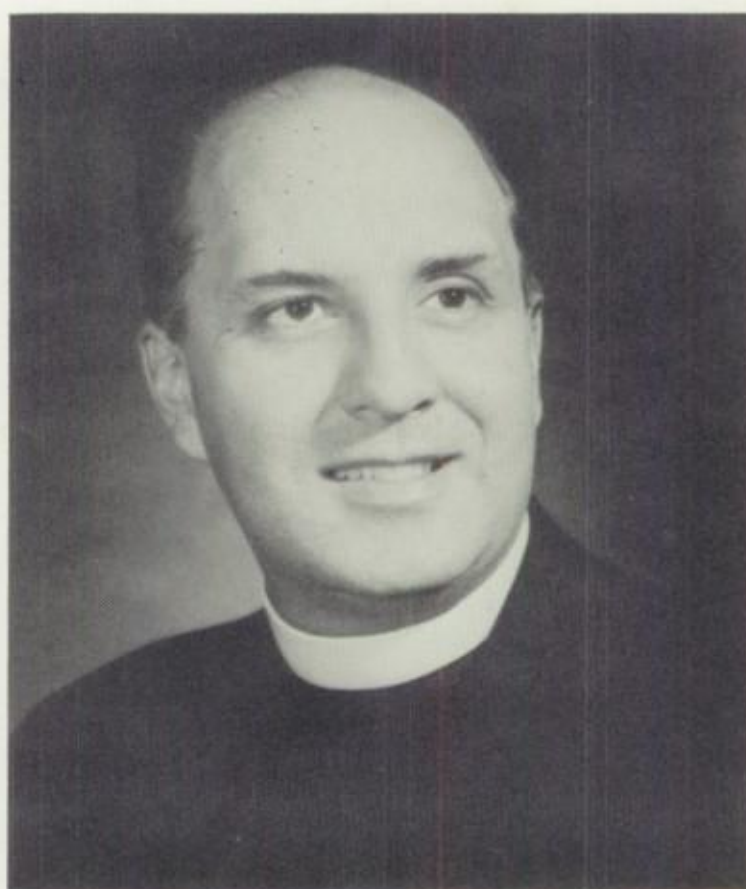

Our new surroundings serve as an incentive to us to prove our worth and appreciation by excelling in our scholastic as well as our spiritual pursuits.

Guided by the wisdom of our Bishops and clergy, enriched by the sacrifices of our many benefactors, we set our goal—the achievement of an education that is Catholic—an education that will reflect the principles established by Christ for right living—and education that will serve as the flame to our eternal salvation.

PRINCIPALS AND CLERGY REFLECT

REV. THOMAS A. LEITCH
Principal Religion IV

REV. MARTIN BROWN
Assistant Principal
Religion I, II

Endowed with wisdom and patience, Father Leitch and his capable assistant Father Brown, encourage the spiritual, intellectual, and social growth of the student body of Our Lady of Lourdes. Whether speaking to an individual, or to the entire school Father increases our spiritual knowledge through his priestly advice and example. With his expert guidance he broadens our intellectual outlook with his constant exhortation: "Keep a novel cooking all the time." The reading of good material other than textbooks advances us mentally and expands our scope of vision. Socially he broadens our world with accounts of his own experiences or tales of the problems and resolution of difficulties faced by others. Father helps us to avoid the pitfalls and snares that have entangled other teenagers of his acquaintance. Backing Father Leitch with dignity and determination is our Vice-Principal Father Brown, who inspires and aids the students as does Father Leitch. Between these two able clergymen the student body of Our Lady of Lourdes, "advances in wisdom and grace before God and men."

CATHOLIC PRINCIPLES . . .

The students of Our Lady of Lourdes owe a great debt of gratitude to these untiring "fishers of men." By sacrificing their own time and interests our Priests instruct various religion classes throughout the school. With ceaseless effort they replace ignorance of Divine Law with knowledge and understanding. They resolve the difficulties placed before them with tact and consideration. Their only wish is to prepare us for the problems we shall meet in our lives now and in the future. More important, however, is their desire to instill into us the principles of our Catholic religion, so that knowing our Faith, we may permit it to lead us to Eternity. Indeed, for all their patience and effort, Our Lady of Lourdes says a heartfelt "Thank you."

One of the greatest joys of Father Leitch is to participate in the graduation exercises. He delights in the accomplishments of the students and shares the joys of their success.

Mrs. Aurelia Vivino, our competent dietitian, carefully plans each day's meal. With some four hundred fifty ravenous appetites to satisfy, this laborious job has its rewarding moment, when the hungry students happily "dig" in.

O, Immaculate Mother of Divine Knowledge, we beseech thee to obtain for us the grace to realize that the primary aim of our Catholic education is to teach us to be virtuous children of God . . . Enlighten us with that wisdom needed to distinguish right from wrong . . . Strengthen us to put into effect our better impulses, straightforward and unafraid . . . Instruct us in those characteristics of good citizenship . . . Shed the brightness of thy heavenly light upon us so that we may understand the lessons of loyalty, justice and fortitude which our teachers try to instill into us . . . Enable us, dearest Mother, to impart the light of our knowledge to others and thereby spread the truths of God's Kingdom on earth.

C LASSES

Wishfully contemplating the day when she would reach the heights of a mighty Senior, J. Ziemba hesitatingly accepts the Freshman day burden from B. Malinowski. Although F. Roma seems to have a scheming plan in mind, E. Seroski despotically handles the situation.

FRESHMEN

Although we were on the bottom rung of the class ladder, nevertheless we deemed ourselves to be quite important—we would be the first class to enjoy the advantages of four years in the new high school. This thought proved an incentive to succeed, but the hurdles to be jumped in the beginning days were difficult to master. We delighted in the change of classes, the new subjects offered to us, and the extra-curricular activities. However, the rules, the traditions, to say nothing about the “traffic regulations” had us completely lost for days.

All this anxiety disappeared after a trip with the “Wizard of Lourdes.” On that day we became aware of our potentialities. The seniors proudly told us that we had been accepted and we humbly bowed to their decision. We were then socially a part of Lourdes. Representatives of our class were soon listed as members of the Band and Majorette Corps. Our boys Basketball team was “tops” and a few lassies made the girls’ team. The Freshmen Cheerleaders have the vigor and pep needed to arouse school spirit anywhere.

Our beginning was good. The Class of '64 aspires to future heights scholastically and spiritually. This is our little way of saying, “Thank you.”

The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, the center of our Catholic faith, is offered every Friday in the gymnasium. The majority of students take the opportunity to receive Holy Eucharist each week.

J. Fitzpatrick and her Sophomore classmates discuss the mission chart. Donating to the missions is the fulfillment of our obligation to the corporal works of mercy.

HERITAGE

IN THEORY

AND PRACTICE

"Practice of our faith helps to make a perfect faith" — the truth of this adage is evident as students in their fervent devotion at Mass, frequent reception of the sacraments, and daily prayer, develop habits, characteristic of virtuous Catholic youth. The warmth, silence and devotion of Saint Bernadette's chapel lures G. Snyder and V. Zyla to moments of prayer.

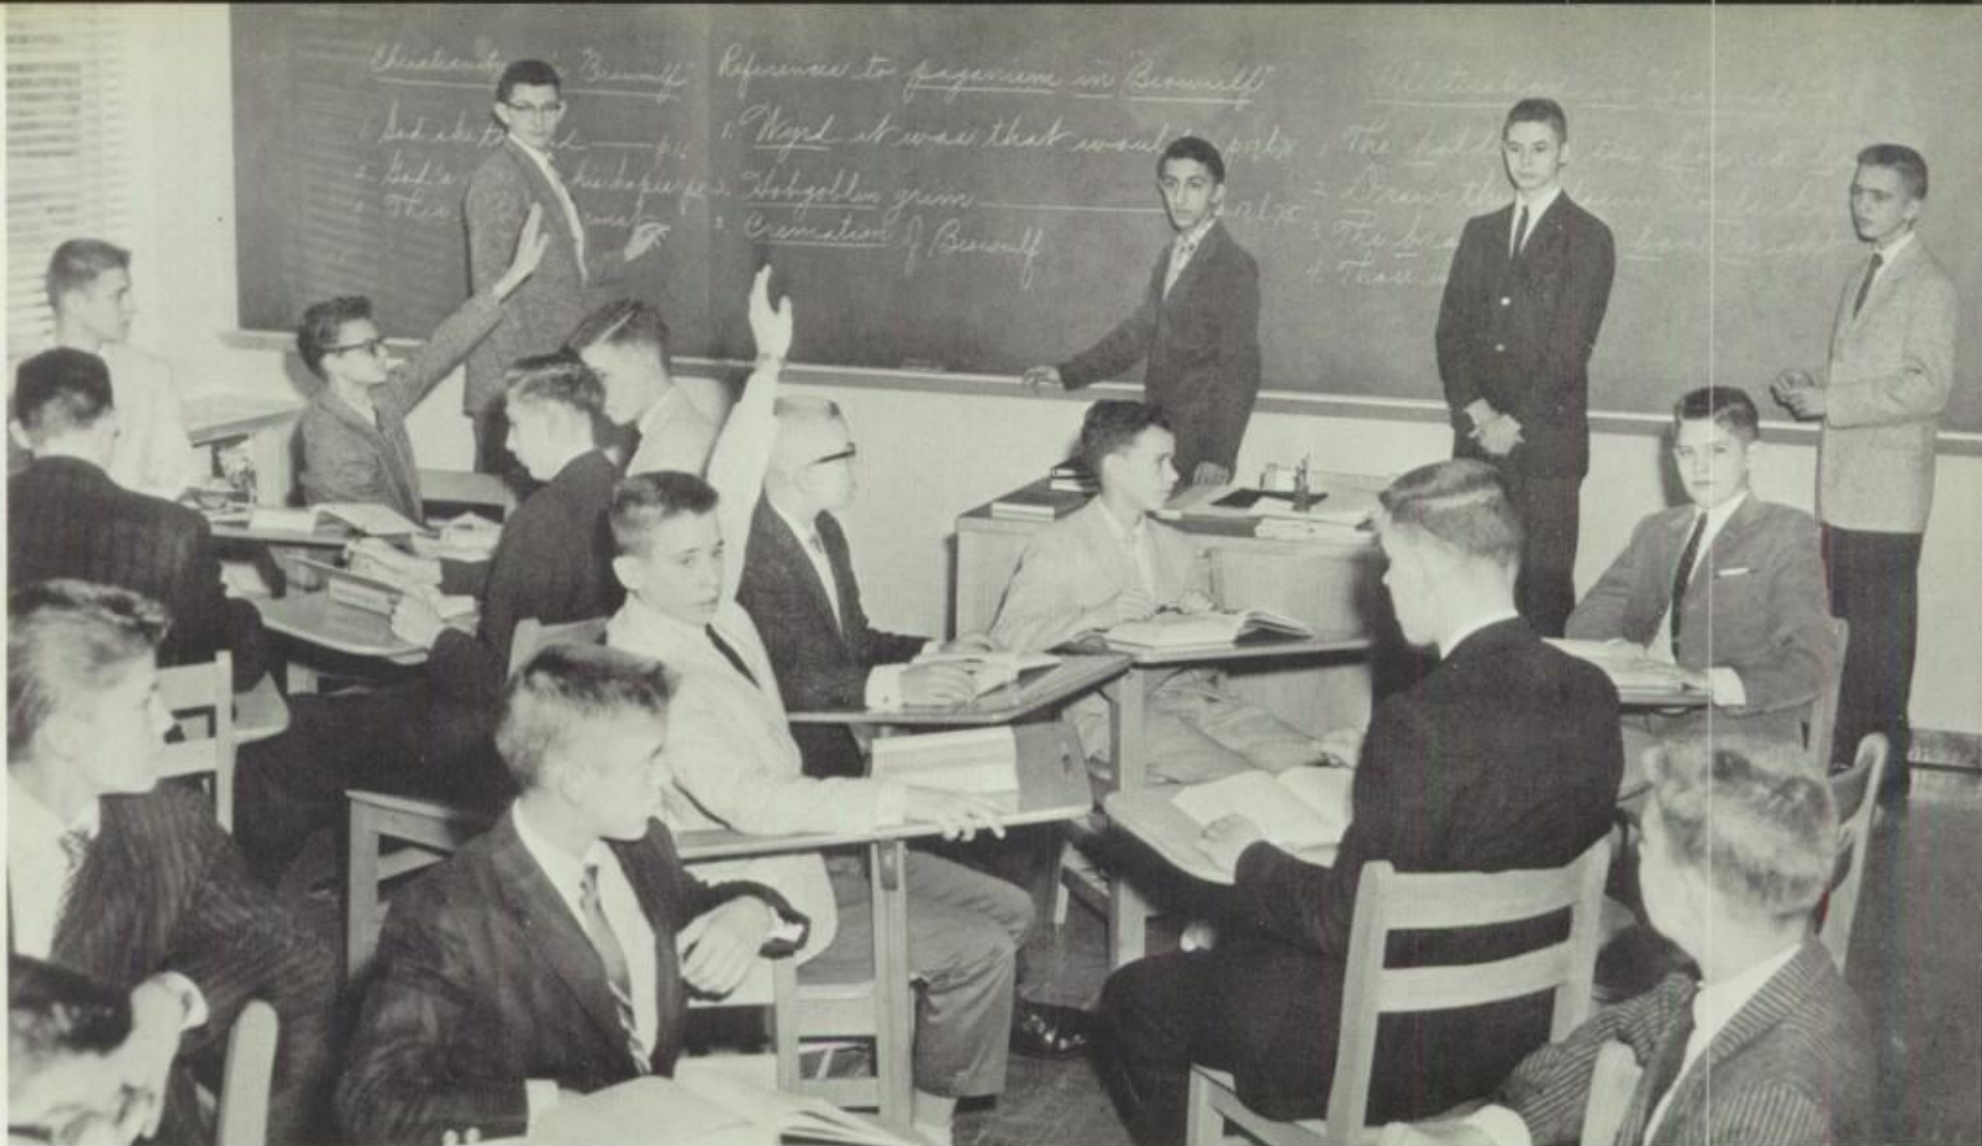

The gay Christmas tradition of the advent wreath is upheld by the Junior class. Robert Leavens takes his turn in conducting the ceremony.

Freshmen religion class instructed by Sister Mater Alma listens attentively to their first lesson on "The Way, the Truth, and the Life."

Father Leitch's Senior religion class pauses momentarily in the study of Apologetics to take a happy pose for the photographer.

Chairmen, T. Jazurski, T. Fabia, R. Leffler, and R. Zyla, record on the board the research material accumulated by the various committees assigned to prepare statements on the Sophomore topic "Beowulf."

LANGUAGES

— A BASIC CULTURE IN OUR SHRINKING WORLD

French students A. Wysocki, K. Konetski, B. Bodner, E. Graeber, L. Korbich, and M. Belski are endeavoring to perfect their diction by listening attentively to tape recorded excerpts of the various French "irregularities."

L. Pogozeleskie demonstrates to the English students the proper way to address envelopes as Sister Margaret Anthony proudly observes the class.

English student, P. Corner, examines our library index cards hoping to find a required Junior reading.

Sister Marie Julia moderates the Senior French students as they attempt to improve their pronunciation of common place French words.

No longer can anyone refer to the Sophomores as that "insignificant group" between the "greenies" and the upperclassmen. We have crashed that theory by making ourselves famous—in many ways.

We do admit that our beginning days in the new high school found us a bit confused. The long trek between classes seemed to contradict our geometric learning that the shortest distance between two points is a straight line. Proving this point, we were soon re-routed on our course by an observant faculty member. The nearby woods served as a source for a few of our biological specimens. Our enthusiasm and discoveries overwhelmed Sister Mary Ellen. Not only did we realize that Caesar conquered Gaul, but also invaded our English language with Latin derivatives.

Whenever an activity was underway the Sophomores were represented. We succeeded in hiring "Mr. Paar for our Pep Rally" and even St. Patrick must have agreed that our March 7 dance was the highlight of the year.

You could find us participating in sports, too. We supported the Red Raiders all the way in the fight and or in the cheering section.

It is an admitted fact—the Sophomores have school spirit. To them, "Lourdes is best!"

Sophomore members of the Student Council speak for their respective classes. T. Snyder, T. Jucha, C. Hynoski. Standing are E. Roginskie, E. Gilger, and R. Leffler.

Despite the grin on C. Dombroski's face his vain attempt to explain an arduous principle in trigonometry only succeeds in confusing his classmates. J. Pstroch and P. Snyder, however, wish to solve this problem and proceed to have a closer look.

Under the watchful eyes of T. Pedrosa and M. E. Kashenchak, C. Worshefski, a student of business arithmetic, hopefully delves into the fundamentals of math. T. Sardzinski makes certain there is no prompting from the class.

S. Ryan explains and demonstrates postulates in geometry to the attentive audience, who listen to Sandy's wiry word.

During Algebra class, Sister Anselm strives to instill into the minds of her pupils the process of solving problems containing brackets and parentheses.

MATHEMATICS

— ESSENTIAL IN OUR GROWING SPACE AGE

M. Startzel, K. McAlanis, and W. Gates obviously admire R. Romanoski's knowledge of the graphical addition of real and imaginary numbers.

M. Graeber, G. Fellin and J. Szverra diligently prepare their Trig lesson, R. Smith, however, realizes his only solution is the process of osmosis.

SCIENCE

— UNDERSTANDING THROUGH TRIAL AND ERROR

Proud members of the general science class demonstrate their progress with the living organisms by displaying posters.

Even before the opening of school our future scientists came to inspect and discuss the new chemistry equipment. We know this interest will last for "lab" days.

R. Duncheski, V. Kiersnowski, S. Moroz, and E. Reidinger prepare for a demonstration experiment on the process of distillation and filtration.

The Senior physics class stands amazed with the results in the "law of gravity" experiment. Why amazed? Their answers were correct.

Senior girls, D. Konetski, C. Glowa, K. Gates, B. Waraksa, and L. Hoberg demonstrate an experimentation on the heat of condensation.

New microscopes are the objects of attention of second year biology students as they are transported into a world of living cells and microscopic creatures. New equipment has made biology an interesting subject for the Sophomores.

J. Janas, E. Reidinger, R. Mazzetesta and L. Krephshaw represent the Junior class at Student Council meetings.

The public pay-phone is a novelty at Lourdes. Juniors outnumber the classes in using it—S. Varano leads the lineup.

JUNIORS

Juniors—to be among the upperclassmen is now a reality; to be so fortunate as to be students in our new high school for two years is an opportunity we appreciate.

By mid-September we had surmounted the obstacles of “new rules and regulations” necessitated by the increase in school enrollment and our new environment.

Class work resumed immediately and like our friends in the “ranks below us” there were a few frustrating days of becoming adjusted. We soon realized that H_2O was not the answer to “Avez-vous faim?” but the union of two gases to produce “aqua”; that Madame Defarge with her knitting needles did not pose for Whistler’s Mother, but that she was one of Dicken’s masterful creations. It did require more thought to find the value of x which seemed to defy the natural law. However, we conquered and placed it before y and z .

We faced fewer difficulties in the extra curricular activities, we were represented on the football team and “the varsity team” for basketball. We really “tooted our own horns” as members of the band and joined the clubs.

The Christmas dance, “la dance élite,” was the project of the Junior class and it was surpassed only by our May-time prom. Another joy of Junior year was receiving our school rings. After this there was no denying it, we now wore the symbol of Our Lady and became her loyal children.

The Freshman Pennsylvania History class receive a more active knowledge of the customs of Early American life through the examination of the project which they all so earnestly indulged. Presiding over this corrulagation is Mrs. Delaney.

Senior P.D. students are zealously striving for a better relationship and understanding of the problems of society present in our world today. Moderator, Mr. M. Benkovic supplements their discussion by giving a widened view of the world's problems with the efforts of making it a less complex situation to endure.

All eyes are attentively fixed upon the Junior students, who are discussing the importance of the places and events in American History under the guidance of Mr. Mulhall, who confidently adds the finishing views of importance.

SOCIAL STUDIES — ECONOMICS AND

J. Hartzel and J. Kozlowski demonstrate what might happen to those who violate school laws in the future.

Displaying her forensic ability, M. Flanagan presents her topic, "I speak for Democracy" before the student body.

SOCIAL PROBLEMS DISCUSSED

Sophomore World History students listen attentively as Mrs. Delaney instructs D. Bogetti to locate various places on the map of Europe.

ENTERING THE BUSINESS WORLD

In a regular Senior typing class, we find G. Kalinowski hastily taking notes on the proper telephone manners displayed by P. Kleczynski.

Having already learned the basic fundamentals of stenography, these Senior students strive to build up their speed while taking dictation from M. J. McElwee.

With typing added to their roster, these industrious Junior students busily engage in keyboard grind. Each day setting the pace to establish new speed records, with the one important factor in mind . . . Accuracy!

Seated attentively around F. Ziembra, Seniors H. Marhefka, B. Okrasinska, D. McLean, and M. J. McElwee learn the methods of operating the dicta-phone machine.

C. Warashefski, B. Augustine, R. Blascovich and G. Bates, attempt to construct their shorthand characters, properly, which is a very important factor in first year stenography.

Eagerly engrossed in the operation of the new mimeograph machine are Senior students, L. Nye, M. Scandle, M. Bodner, M. J. Ritzman, F. Avellino, M. A. Kalinoski, and G. Kopinski.

ARMED WITH COMMERCIAL TECHNIQUES

HOME ECONOMICS — DEVELOPING SKILLS

Father Leitch presents the Betty Crocker Medal award to V. Zyla who obtained the highest rating in the examination for future homemakers.

Despite their relaxation, our alert and interested Junior Home Economics students take their course seriously, and these future "Homemakers of America" apply all knowledge made available to them.

FOR DAILY LIFE

Mrs. Alexander takes a few minutes out of her busy schedule to help her students brush up on their "Sunday-Best" etiquette.

Senior seamstresses turn out their finished product to the tune of whirring machines and snipping shears. E. Borgetti is happy with her accomplishments.

J. Carvalho, assisted by J. Roma and V. Seedor gives the last stir to the doughnut batter. The results made Shrove-Tuesday lunch complete.

E. Dick is very proud of the batter she has placed in the frigidaire. C. Obniski enjoys her experience of making French fries.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION PROVIDES STRENGTH FOR THE BODY

These Junior and Senior boys demonstrate their athletic ability as they occupy the gymnasium at weekly health classes.

Calisthenics drilling plays a routine part in the weekly gym classes of the upperclassmen. The arm drill is demonstrated by J. Latavicz, J. FitzPatrick, M. Belskie, R. Romanoski, and B. Bodner.

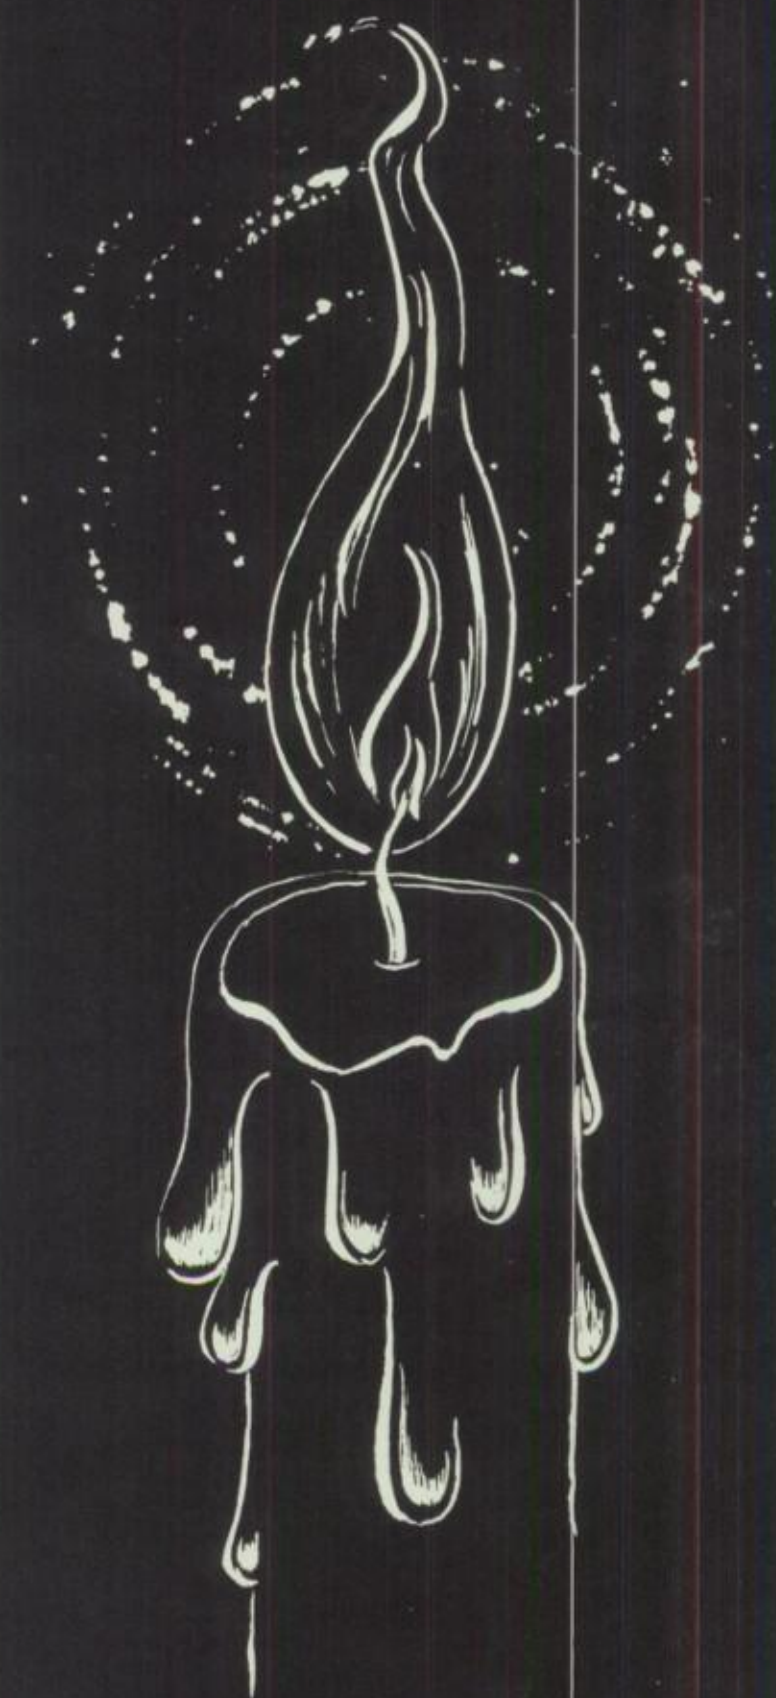

1,2,3, bend—1,2,3, stretch, Oh! how I like gym, can be heard among other enticing sounds coming from the gymnasium on Tuesday afternoons where the Sophomores spend happy but strenuous gym classes.

O Lady of Success, we beseech thee to permit the flame of victory to burn in our behalf. Strengthen us, that we may be physically fit to compete with our opponents. Inspire us with loyalty to our school, team and coaches. Impart to us a knowledge of fair play, justice and sportsmanship. Grant us the grace to be big when facing defeat, to congratulate the winning team. Enable us, dear Mother, to appreciate the opportunities of a complete education afforded us at Lourdes High—an education which includes on its curriculum a physical as well as intellectual training.

ATHLETICS

Mr. Leo Mulhall, chief coach of the Red Raiders, looks his men over and plans a top team.

The Raiders strong line stops the St. Michael's man behind the line of scrimmage for a loss.

The Raiders football team underwent extensive and grueling drills in preparation for the opening game. As can be seen, the Raiders go through the tire drill to achieve coordination.

A crashing line of Red Raiders led by R. Kearney and E. Dallatore charge through the Nescopeck's offense to stop a swift moving back attempting to run around the Red Raiders left end.

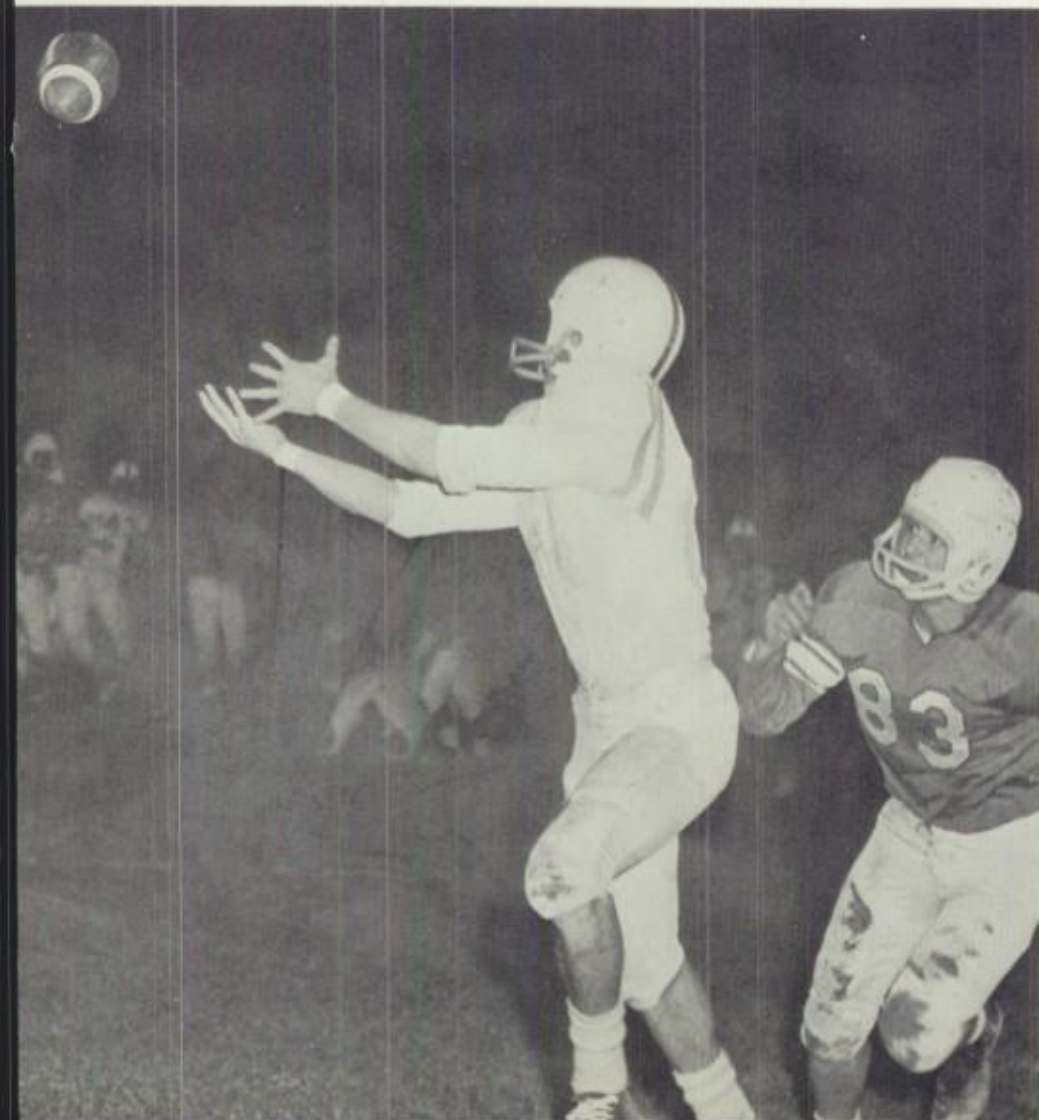

FOOTBALL

— A SPIRITED RED RAIDERS ELEVEN

Opening a new football season, the Red Raiders met two new coaches; Mr. Leo Mulhall, a graduate of nearby Bloomsburg State Teachers College, and Mr. Martin Bencovic, a graduate of St. Joseph's College in Philadelphia. Entering into the newly organized Anthracite League this year, the Raiders met new opponents. Once the League, under the direction of Father Leitch and Mr. Hanrahan, set up its schedule, the teams and coaches planned for a strenuous season. Each member team tried for first place which was based on the win-loss basis.

Nativity Catholic won first place with a record of four wins-no losses. Lourdes Catholic pushed into second place with a three-one record. Mount Carmel Catholic and Marian Catholic tied for third place with one win, two losses and a tie score.

With arms wide open, R. Knapik waits to grab off a perfect aerial from B. Wolfe in the game with Nescopeck.

SCORE IMPRESSIVELY FOR A FINE SEASON

P. Brennan holds on tight to that football as an opponent from Kulpmont turns him bottom side up. In the rear is R. Knapik (81) throwing a key block to open up the way for Brennan.

Leaping high into the air in the end zone, R. Leavens dents the scoring column before a defensive man has a chance to get his hands on the ball.

L. Korbich circles his own right end against the wishes of an aggressive opponent. R. Leavens (44) comes to the aid of Korbich by throwing a key block.

RED RAIDERS — Bottom row: Mr. Mulhall, Coach; G. Klemick, J. Gurski, R. Mace, R. Leffler, E. Martz, D. Capezello, L. Korbich, F. Garrigan, B. Dormer, R. Zyla, W. Barke, G. Sadoski, J. An opponent from Mt. Carmel Catholic doesn't seem to like the idea of P. Brennan, who is "Touchdown" bound.

Red Raiders score again! R. Leavens takes a quick hand-off from R. Wolfe. Lourdes' victory over Shenandoah to the tune of 32-0 made homecoming day a success.

"The very idea," L. Krepshaw seems to have been unsuccessful in his attempt to get the ball from a Demon of Coal Township. This game was sparked with great ball handling on the part of the Raiders.

J. Senulis is fouled by Coal Township eager after intercepting pass during heated moments of an intersectional rivalry. The Raiders won by a score of 58-53.

BASKETBALL

— DEADLY SHOOTING

AND HUSTLING —

The Raiders who gave Lourdes one of the finest seasons in recent years are—

L. Krepshaw is fouled while trying to get off a jump-shot against the Rams.

Combine a group of boys, with the will to win, an able coach, and add a basketball and you have a combination which gave Lourdes one of the finest records in recent years.

The Raiders, under the expert guidance of coach Benkovic, had an outstanding regular season record of 18 wins and 7 losses, Lourdes also fought down to the wire for the championship but lost out to Bishop McDevitt on the last regularly scheduled game of the year.

Coach Benkovic and his team anxiously await post-season contests in both the Bloomsburg Tournament and the Class "B" State Championship.

The Junior Varsity, under the tutorship of Mr. Leon Korbich sported an equally fine record. The Junior Varsity, along with the fine Freshman team which is coached by Mr. William Higgins, promise to produce future court stars for Lourdes.

T. Ryan, Lourdes ball-hawking guard, attempts to feed pass through Seal defender into forward, P. Jucha. The Raiders combined a fast moving offense and a sterling defense to defeat the Seals.

J. Senulis gains possession of local ball and prepares to take a short jumper. R. Wolf stands ready to lend a helping hand as L. Krepshaw moves in also.

Leon Korbich drives around a Selinsgrove defender as Paul Jucha and Bob Wolfe look on.

Bob Wolfe finds little trouble controlling the opening taps of the new season against Kulpmont. Father Leitch was given the honor of throwing up the first ball.

Paul Jucha closes in on a loose ball in a tense moment during a contest between Lourdes and Kulpmont. Leon Korbich, Bob Wolfe, and Joe Senules close in to offer any necessary assistance.

Glennon, R. Garan-cheski, J. Purcell. Back row: mgr. R. Zienda, R. O'Brien, D. Ziobro, Coach William Hig-gins, T. Madrak, A. Kashock, mgr. G. Slaby.

In the Raiderettes Vs. Nativity game, B. Blascovich, No. 15, taps the ball for the jump. B. Mahon, No. 13, keeps an alert watch.

V. Kiersnowski, a flashy forward for Lourdes' Raiderettes can be seen scoring a charity shot, during the action in the contest with Nativity.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Aiming for top teams the Freshmen and Sophomore players and managers come faithfully to practice. C. Smokowicz, G. Miller, C. Matzura, S. Sager, S. Gilger, L. Balanda, C. Sager, A. Dawgert, Second row: L. Malukas, J. Alters, B. Blascovich, B. Mahon, M. Sperring, C. Hartzel, G. Snyder, and M. McCord.

G. Miller, No. 14, is guarding the ball with her life, from the anxious hands of Nativity of Pottsville players, to score two points for Lourdes.

During half-time Coach P. Jucha explains to the forwards of Lourdes' Raiderettes, a play which he hopes will speed up the offense of the Raiderettes in the second half.

Senior and Junior Raiderettes line up for the photographer: V. Kiersnowski, T. Olcese, M. Dauksha, R. Romanoski, M. A. Pesansky, D. Skoskie, B. Okrasinski, M. A. Malinoski, C. Glowa, C. Latawiec, T. Pedrosa, T. Polastre.

The Raiderettes overcame many obstacles this season and thus proved to be a team with fighting spirit. Senior coaches P. Jucha and R. Kearney took the responsibility of supervising and directing the girls. Under their guidance the girls developed skill in handling the ball and shooting for fouls.

Although the Raiderettes cannot boast of victories, they deserve praise for their sportsmanship and perseverance.

F-I-G-H-T! The fighting spirit of Lourdes High is in the capable hands of its peppy, red clad cheerleaders. Time, effort, and a great deal of practice go into the making of a good cheerleader and evidence of this can be seen by their unparalleled leadership at each game.

Rain and snow are discomforts barely noticed by these "rah-rah girls" as they give their all to lead the players onward to a smashing success. Defeats are quickly forgotten as the enthusiasm of the cheerleaders takes over to back the team in every way. These girls have a knack for extracting every ounce of support from the fans and are at their happiest when they have a large cheering section of loyal supporters to work with.

These nine snappy lassies add zest to the Junior Varsity basketball games. They are: G. Miller, M. Marcheski, J. Alters, D. Bogetti, L. Balanda, G. Pedrosa, S. Sager, C. D'Angelo, and S. Gilger.

CHEERLEADERS

Varsity Cheerleaders who head the "rahs" at all the games are H. Marhefka, M. M. Dick, M. Hickey, and T. Olcese. Second row: C. Mikulanis, and A. Garrigan.

O, Mary Immaculate, we beseech thee to obtain for us the grace to live in harmonious relationship with our fellowmen . . . Guide us that we may recognize the rights of others . . . Make us conscious of our duty as Catholic boys and girls ever to give good example to our associates . . . Obtain for us the necessary fortitude that we may not be influenced by public opinion when it is contrary to the principles of our Catholic faith . . . Inspire us, dear Mother, that we may imitate the kindness, understanding and sympathy of your divine Son in all our social contacts.

A CTIVITIES

STUDENT COUNCIL

— SETTING THE STANDARDS OF THE STUDENT BODY

"I don't sanction that idea at all" Student Council Secretary, M. M. Dick, replies to President R. Letcavage. P. Brennan, Vice-president and M. Flanagan, Treasurer, appear to be highly amused by this slight controversy.

Student Council Representatives and Officers of 1960 are:
C. Hynoskie, R. M. Mazzatesta, J. Pstroch, L. Hoberg, P.
Brennan, R. Letcavage, M. M. Dick, M. Flanagan, M. J.

Baceski, J. Janas. Standing: G. Snyder, R. Leffler, E. Roginski, T. Jucha, N. Catino, R. Knapik, M. Yucha, T. Reidinger, L. Krepshaw and E. Gilger.

The Student Council is the pulsating organ of communication between the faculty and the student body. It was founded for the purpose of fostering whole-hearted co-operation between classes, of initiating and supervising student activities, of presenting the difficulties of individual students to the Administration.

It's elected membership represents each homeroom. It is their function to voice the desires and wishes held by their homeroom students. These representatives have admirably fulfilled the duties for which they have been elected.

The Student Council has built up class spirit, class harmony, and has united everything to produce a more lasting and a more vigorous school spirit. Lastly, it has done much to preserve and to perpetuate the various traditions and ideals which are so much a part of Our Lady of Lourdes.

M. J. Baceski, encouraged in her merry mischief by M. A. Dauksha, mercilessly initiate the frustrated Freshmen. Undernourished in the three r's, the tin man, portrayed by M. Yucha, competently supervises the situation.

Vice-president, P. Brennan takes delight in crowning B. Waraska as "Queen of the Holly Hop."

K. Gates is sternly reprimanded by "turn about" principal, R. Letcavage and assistant principal, P. Brennan. This day was long-awaited by the students. The Student Council members capably infiltrated faculty ranks.

OUR STAFF KEEPS BUSY WRITING AND EDITING

Margaret Scandle's beaming countenance reflects the sentiments of the entire high school on the choice of "Lourdescope" as the title of our new quarterly paper. To Margaret is given the credit of naming the "Lourdescope."

"The Edwardian" with its numerous volumes of page-editing, interviews, news and feature articles has graciously bowed to its successor, "Lourdescope."

The Junior class under the direction of Sister Marie Julia edits our quarterly publication. The staff members meet frequently in the new "news room" and plan leads, headlines and layout sheets, which will give the students, and loyal supporters a full account of our activity program.

Awards and certificates of recognition from the various organizations sponsoring high school journalism have been won in the past. The perseverance and diligence of the present staff gives promise of the same rating for the Lourdescope.

Headlines, columns, features—these are just some of the factors with which our hard working sports editors have to contend. V. Kiersnowski, P. Brennan, and K. Konetski delve into the intricacies of planning the athletic layout for the oncoming edition of the "Lourdescope."

"The paper is out" is the cry echoed by the students as they eagerly devour their "Lourdescope" copies. Groups gather quickly and comments fly fast as articles are discussed and pictures are scrutinized for the possibility of finding their own likenesses.

THE LOURDESCOPE

Sister Marie Julia, moderator of the school paper looks on with approval as page editors, M. E. Startzel, R. M. Weiser, P. Brennan, and S. Varano review the finished product of their efforts, the first edition of the "Lourdescope."

Hot off the press! Busy members of the "Lourdescope" staff meet to formulate plans for an upcoming edition of the school paper. Ideas are exchanged and problems are worked out as the teamwork of the staff becomes endearing.

THE REALM

— PLANNING OUR YEARBOOK IS A DIFFICULT BUT REWARDING JOB

"Double, Double, toil and trouble" — adequately describes the predicament of the Realm Sports writers. R. D'Amico, K. Rosini and R. Reed seem to have the situation well in hand but P. Jucha is evidently having trouble getting started.

Einstein has nothing on the financial wizards of the Realm. K. Gates manipulates figures with the skill of a juggler. J. Palacz and C. Dilliplane pool their respective talents to get Realm payment cards ready to distribute.

The literary department of the Realm staff is busily engrossed composing and compiling material for their prized publication. These members sacrifice their study periods and activity periods in order to perfect their material. Then when the dismissal bell chimes, the literary staff can be seen racing to the publications room to start another strenuous task, only to know that the reward of their efforts will be "The Best" ever.

Father Leitch, discusses highlights of The 1960 Realm with L. Hoberg, C. Surak and assistant editor, C. Mikulanis.

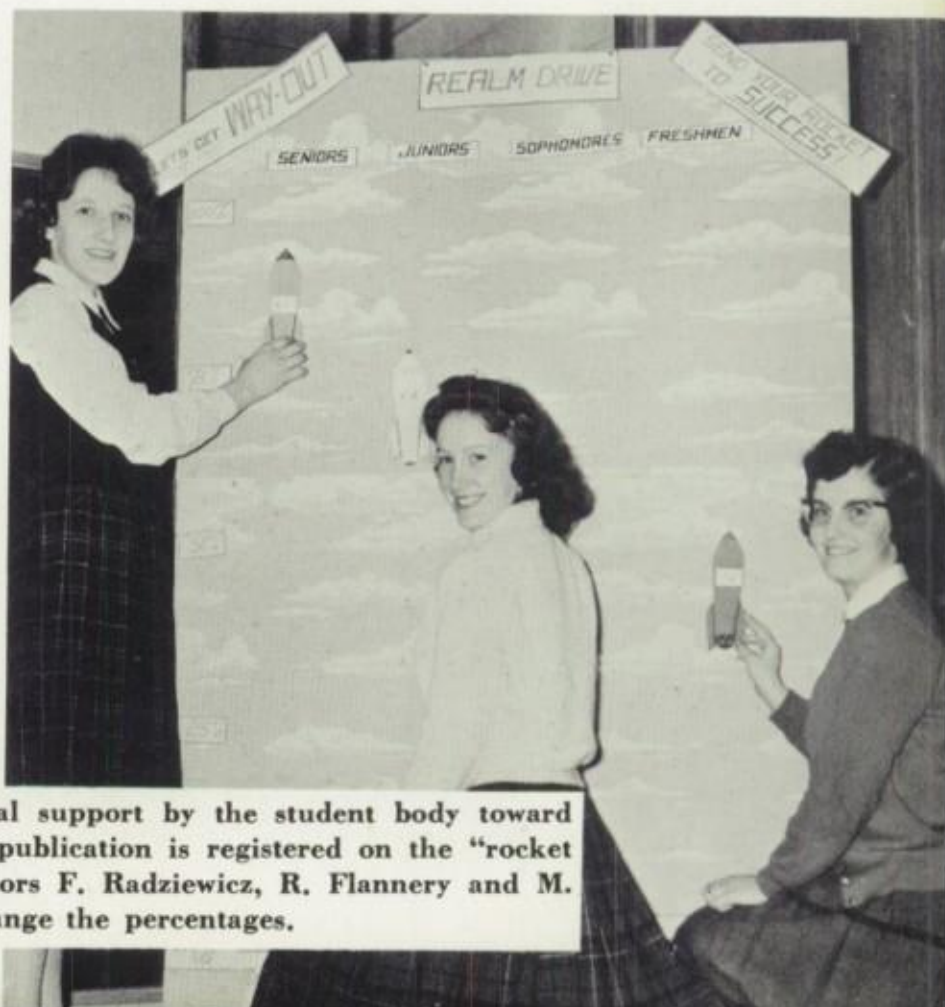

Realm editors guided by Sister Marita Dolores, transform the "dummy" into a book of memories which records exciting times of high school life.

Time marches on rapidly for members of the Realm staff! October and November show them busily engaged in preparing their assignments to meet the deadline set by Sister Marita Dolores who supervises the publication and editing of the 1960 Realm. All too soon December arrived when all photographs must be selected and assembled. In January the staff hurriedly completes the final details before the annual is sent to press.

It is evident that much time is required on the part of the staff in editing the Realm. Assiduous members do not consider the work involved, but the goal achieved—to publish a book which will vividly recreate the daily events of school days.

Fingers fly with alacrity as the Realm typists, directed by J. Palacz, strive to meet the deadline and submit perfect copies.

The financial support by the student body toward the annual publication is registered on the "rocket chart." Seniors F. Radzewicz, R. Flannery and M. Scandle arrange the percentages.

To prepare us socially and to afford us the opportunity to show more interest in our subjects, our curriculum provides for various club activities. Formal meetings are held every first Friday of the month under the supervision of the Sister moderator. Officers of the clubs plan programs for future meetings and stimulate extra curricular work.

The language clubs enable time for conversation, singing, and games in a new tongue. The Forensic Club encourages the technique of discussion and public speaking. Assisted by the Library Aides, the students and faculty save valuable time in locating research material. Our Business Club is most active in giving our future secretaries training in office protocol. The boys of the Varsity Club keep busy raising funds to finance the Senior blazers. And the Science Club hopes to be the first to launch a rocket in the area base of Edgewood Park.

A few members of the Latin Club: L. Pogozelski, L. Gripp, B. Roma and E. Roginski stop to gaze at one of the Latin displays constructed by the club throughout the year.

Members of the Science Club meet to discuss their microscopic discoveries. B. Waraksa, president of the club, is assisting K. Gates in adjusting her microscope.

A PARADE OF TALENT

IN OUR VARIETY OF ACTIVITIES

MANY CURTAIN CALLS FOR . . .

"Professor, How Could You?" a three act comedy by Anne Coulter Martens, relates the hilarious events resulting from Keats Perry's decision to get married. Keats seeks John Appleby's assistance in finding a suitable wife. Hearing this, Vicky Randolph, one of Professor Keats students, comes to the conclusion, that she, also, will aid. Naturally, Boggins, the butler, also, knows the perfect mate for Keats. During the climax of all this; Keats, himself, reveals that he is in love with Vicky Randolph; not the three nominees presented by the auxiliary trio. The curtain falls on a very heart-warming scene: John Appleby seeking the hand of Priscilla Morley, his nominee, Boggins proposing marriage to Tootsie Bean, his suggested wife for Keats; and finally Keats Perry leaving to marry Vicky Randolph.

"But, Keatsy, dear, we are married." Professor Perry (P. Jucha) finds it difficult to digest Lulu's (T. Donovan) cruel remembrance.

"Don't you even remember our children, darling?" Professor Perry (P. Jucha) appears stunned by Lulu's (T. Donovan) accusation.

Butcher Boy Holler uses friendly persuasion to further the marital hopes of his sister, Tootsie (M. Dietzler).

It seems as if Cupid's Arrow carrying Vicki Randolph's (M. Baceski) love finally reached Professor Perry's heart just in time to prevent matrimonial mishap from claiming our beloved Professor.

"Professor, How Could You!"

Amid minute grey hair and custom made wrinkles, we find Grandpa (T. James) and Grandma Perry (M. Strausser) slowly evolving from the creative hands of A. Komara, C. Obniski, J. Roma, and S. Paulukinas.

The overpowering male domination of John Appleby (T. Donovan) seems to have no effect on iron-willed Vicki Randolph (M. Baceski) as he tries to convince her that the scheming Southerner Valerie Whitman (D. Konetski) is no match for his sweet little Priscilla (M. M. Dick).

Our frustrated Professor Perry (P. Yucha) is about to enter into the unholy state of polygamy as he finds himself the promised altar partner of these three feminine manhunters (D. Konetski, M. Dietzler, M. Dick). Instigator John Appleby (T. Donovan) surveys the scene with the usual male "I told you so."

The manual talents of G. Fellin, J. Graham, J. Jurewicz, E. Seroskie, T. Waraksa are put to the test as they prepare the stage for the Senior class play. It was a job well done as everyone agrees.

This innocent looking trio M. Baceski, T. Donavan, R. Reid has just contrived the cruel plan of assembling the three prospective brides for the impending marriage of Professor Perry.

This bevy of beauties: S. Thornton, M. O'Brien, B. Waraksa, J. Pstroch, J. Wysock, C. Phillips, D. Skoskie, M. Golden, J. Palacz; overtook and successfully succeeded in managing the problems of seating the Senior class play audience.

CHRISTMAS

WE GIVE GLORY TO GOD IN THE HIGHEST

T'was the week before Christmas that Santa's Student Council created a Christmas Tree spectacular in the lobby. This Christmas tree had a special place in everyone's heart for it was grown on the OLOL campus.

The wonderful magic of giving, touched the hearts of the students. Their gifts to the Christ Child were later distributed to the poor through the Catholic Charities.

Strains of "All Glory to God on the Highest," filled the auditorium as the Latin students under the direction of Sister Armelia presented "The Christmas Story" of St. Francis of Assisi.

Christmas time at Our Lady of Lourdes is a happy time. The gay and joyous season of Christmas is seen in the faces of the students, bustling merrily through the corridors, exchanging seasons greetings, and permeating the entire school with the Christmas spirit. This spirit grew stronger as the weeks of Christmas drew near, manifesting itself in the annual "Carol Singing" of the Latin Club. The star of Bethlehem could not have been brighter than the hearts of the children who received gifts via the Christ Child Christmas Party in which a gift was donated by each student to Christ to be given to His poor. It is with pride in our hearts we recall . . . Our Christmas Activities.

The most solemn ceremony of the retreat, the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, holds the key to the ardent hearts of the students, as they anxiously await the precious Body and Blood of Christ.

No minute is wasted for during retreat, time is unselfishly devoted to Our Lord. Incited by the enlightening discussions of their retreat master, masculine members of Our Lady of Lourdes spare not a second from prayer.

Retreat constitutes a period of religious contemplation and moral development during which students, seeking solutions to their problems meditate on the spiritual aspects of life. Retreat master, Father Farace, approached by several inquisitive girls, obligingly offers his counsel and spiritual guidance.

SPIRITUAL GRACES AND CONTEMPLATION IN OUR ANNUAL RETREAT

A departure from the daily routine of school with its day to day anxiety found us enjoying the peace and solemnity of our annual retreat.

Our three days of recollection were conducted by Father Farace who inspired us with his practical, yet lofty conferences.

Daily Mass and exposition of the Blessed Sacrament were among the spiritual privileges afforded us during these special days of grace. We appreciate these days when Our Divine Saviour was sacramently present in our little chapel. Like St. Bernadette we were able to go to a place apart and pray that the light of our faith would continue to guide us, and that we would be endowed with the wisdom to evaluate all our future actions according to our Catholic faith.

SENIOR PROM AND BANQUET

In the spring a high school student's fancy turns to thoughts of . . . the Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet. For months in advance these outstanding events are the topics of conversation that command the attention of all upperclassmen, and an atmosphere of excitement and anticipation pervades throughout the school. At last the magical month of May arrives; and the Junior class adds a few final touches to the menu. Then in a flurry of activity, they complete their transformation of the gymnasium—from the ordinary into a realm of make-believe. Finally the Big Day arrives and the starry-eyed students file into their Wonderland of Enchantment. At twelve o'clock the Prom fades from a reality into a fond recollection. For the Junior class, the Prom and Banquet are a significant milestone in their journey toward graduation, but for the Seniors they fill the last leaf in a scrapbook of high school memories.

E. Dick and M. J. McElwee spare a minute to offer the photographer a hungry smile at the Senior Banquet presented annually by the Junior class.

There seems to be a jokester amidst the merry Seniors, while anticipating the next course of the tantalizing repast.

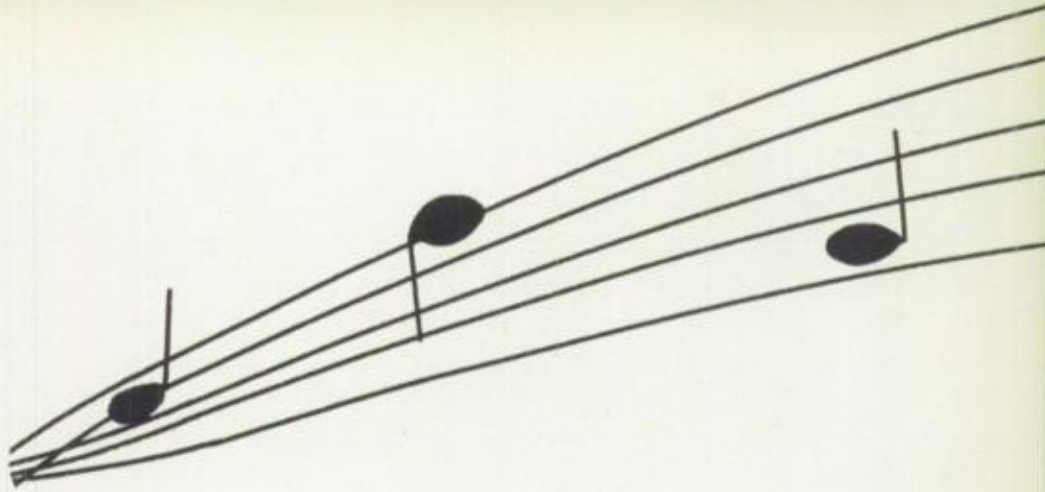

Refreshments, again, but this time it is at the Prom. R. Knapik and P. Brennan seek refreshments to win the favor of their fair ladies.

P. Broscius and N. Catino swing and sway the night away to the melodious strains of music provided by Al Carsto and his orchestra.

WITH A SONG IN OUR HEARTS

This group of smiling Seniors are dazzled by the radiance and splendor of the enchanting prom.

Looking to the stars, D. Konetski and E. Buckwash are grasping memories of this marvelous evening.

ALUMNI-BOOSTER ASSOCIATIONS

The Alumni Association is an integral part of our school life. This year the Alumni established a scholarship fund. An award will be presented each year to a deserving and needy graduate. The fund is invested in the Mission Board of the Diocese of Harrisburg.

On the intellectual scale a series of lectures and panel discussions has also been included in the Alumni agenda for 1960. Balancing the scale with social activities, the members presented the Cheering Squad with a new Indian suit for "Chief Red Raider." They are now planning the annual June banquet. This is the affair to which we are looking forward—our formal reception into the Alumni Association—our opportunity to show in the future our loyalty to our Alma Mater.

The primary purpose of the Booster Association is to finance the Athletic Department of our school. These generous benefactors have through the years provided athletic equipment. Each year the Boosters hold a sports banquet at which there is a presentation of athletic awards.

There is but one request that our Boosters make. Win, Raiders, Win!

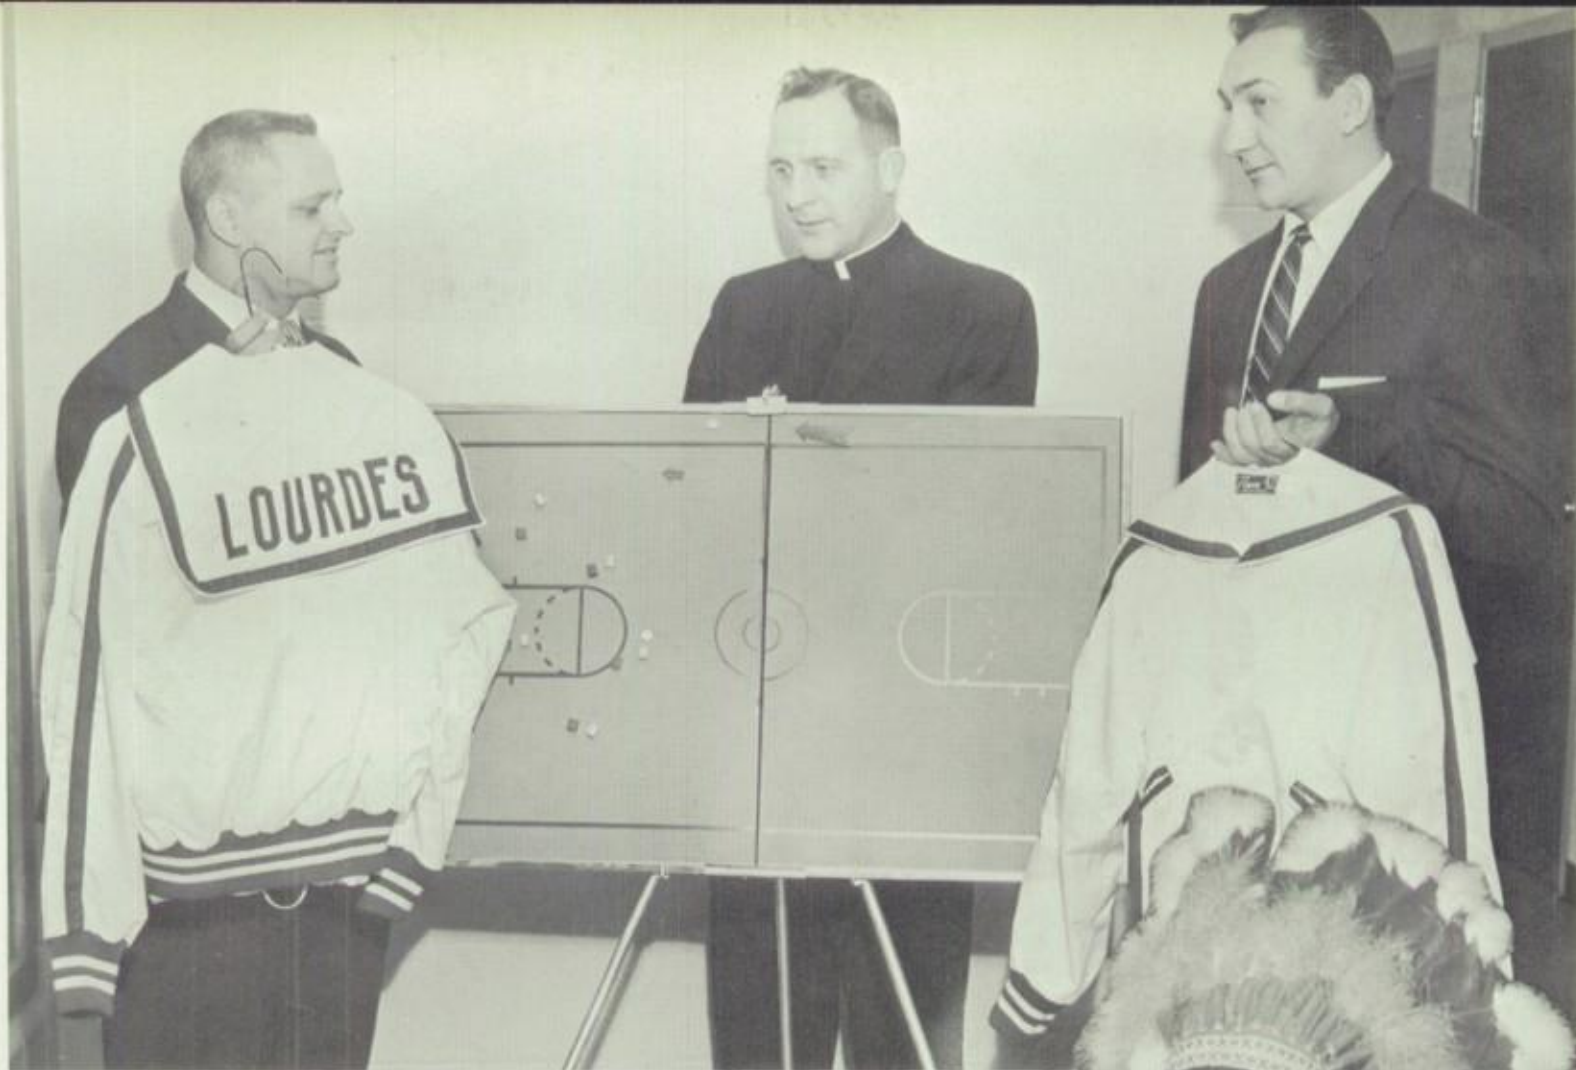

As part of the Homecoming Day program, R. Mack, announces the winner of the Scholarship Fund donation. Among the Booster supporters are Mr. Korbich, Mr. Golden, M. Donlan, and Mrs. Spears.

Alumni officers, Mrs. Zaner, W. Alter, president, R. Mack, Dr. Anonia and P. Brovey meet at the school library to discuss the schedule of activities for the year '59-'60.

Homecoming Day sponsored by the Boosters gave the alumni and friends of Lourdes an opportunity to see the Red Raiders in action against Shenandoah Catholic. "Open house" was held at the school for all those who did not have the opportunity to tour the new school at the time of dedication.

Leon Korbich in the name of the Boosters Association presents new "warm-up" basketball suits to Father Leitch and Coach "Uncle Marti."

Chief Red Raider, proud of the outfit presented by the Alumni, dances to the tom-toms of the cheerleaders.

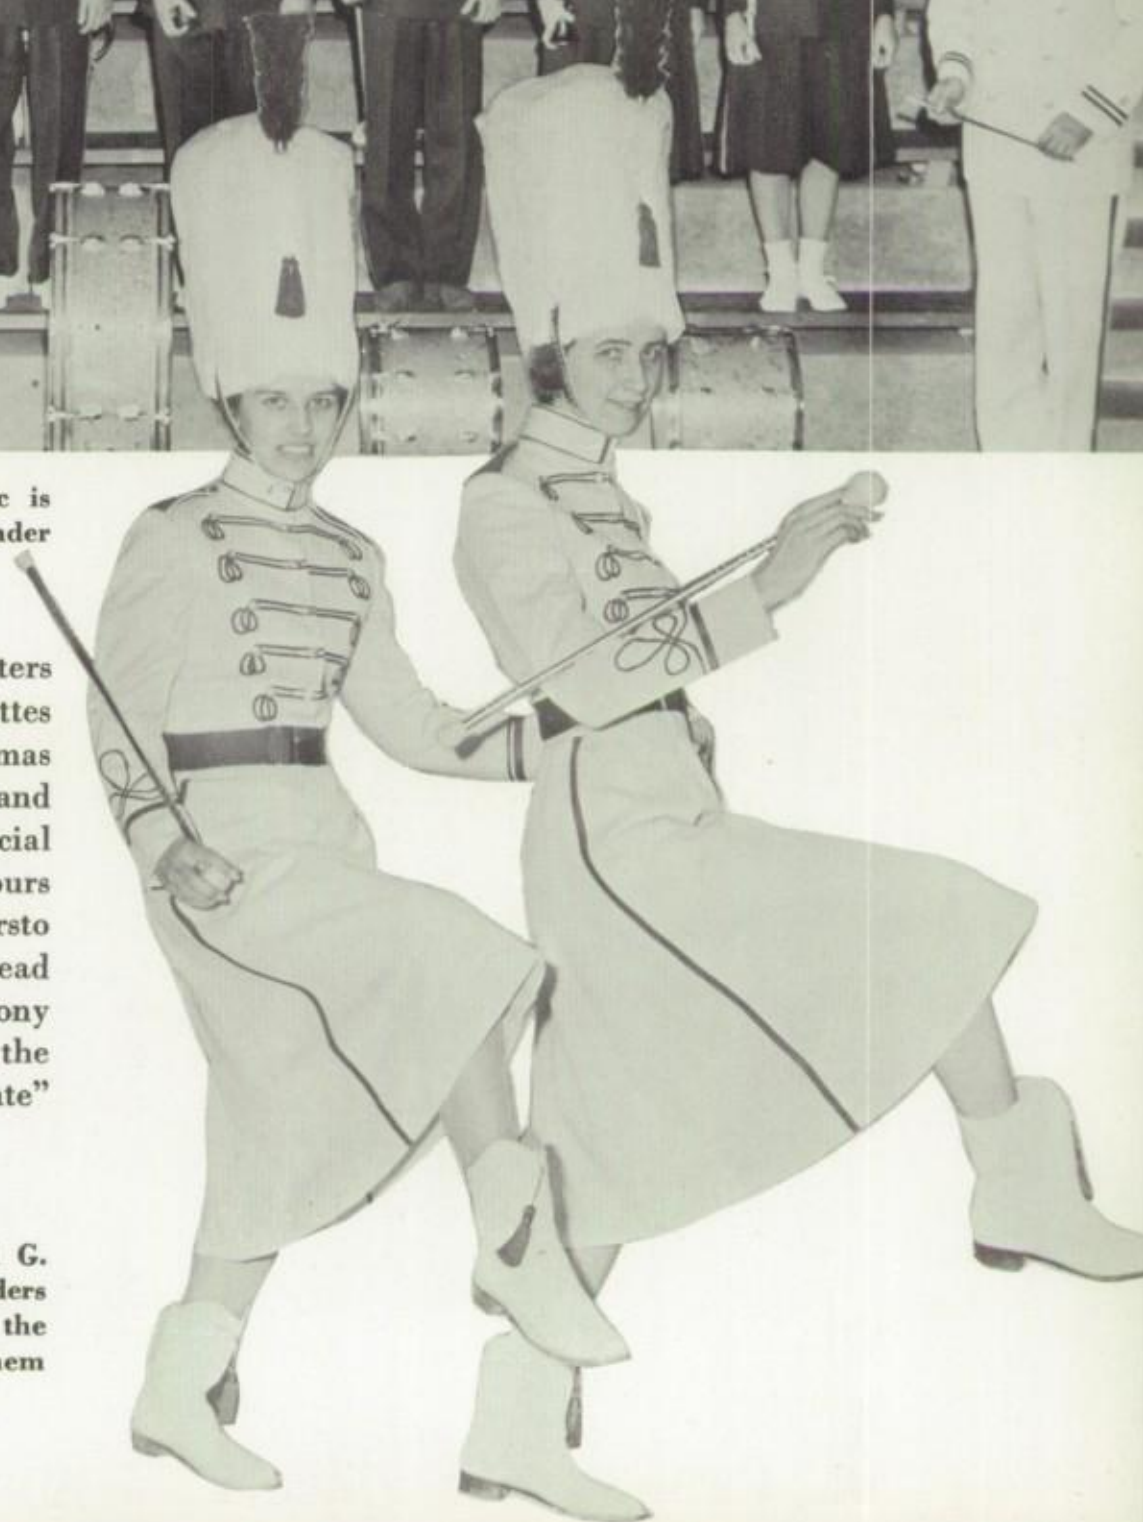

Transforming discordant sounds into harmonious music is the mandate delivered to O.L.O.L.'s renowned band under the guidance of Mr. Al Carsto.

In snappy new uniforms provided by the Boosters of the Music Department, our Band and Majorettes marched and played to the gaiety of the Christmas parade. Any appearance of these "tunesters and twirlers" is certain to enliven all our civic and social functions. Behind each demonstration are long hours of practice supervised by Band Director, Mr. Al Carsto and Majorette Instructor, Mr. Ralph Edwards. As head of the Music Department, Sister Margaret Anthony keeps everything in motion while planning for the Spring Music Festival. This is "l'affaire élégante" amidst all the activities of the year.

Displaying the fourth R . . . Rhythm, J. Palacz and G. Haile, top twirlers of O.L.O.L., enter the limelight as leaders of our Majorette Corps. Strutting to the precise beat of the drum section, they accept the responsibility entrusted to them with co-ordination and poise.

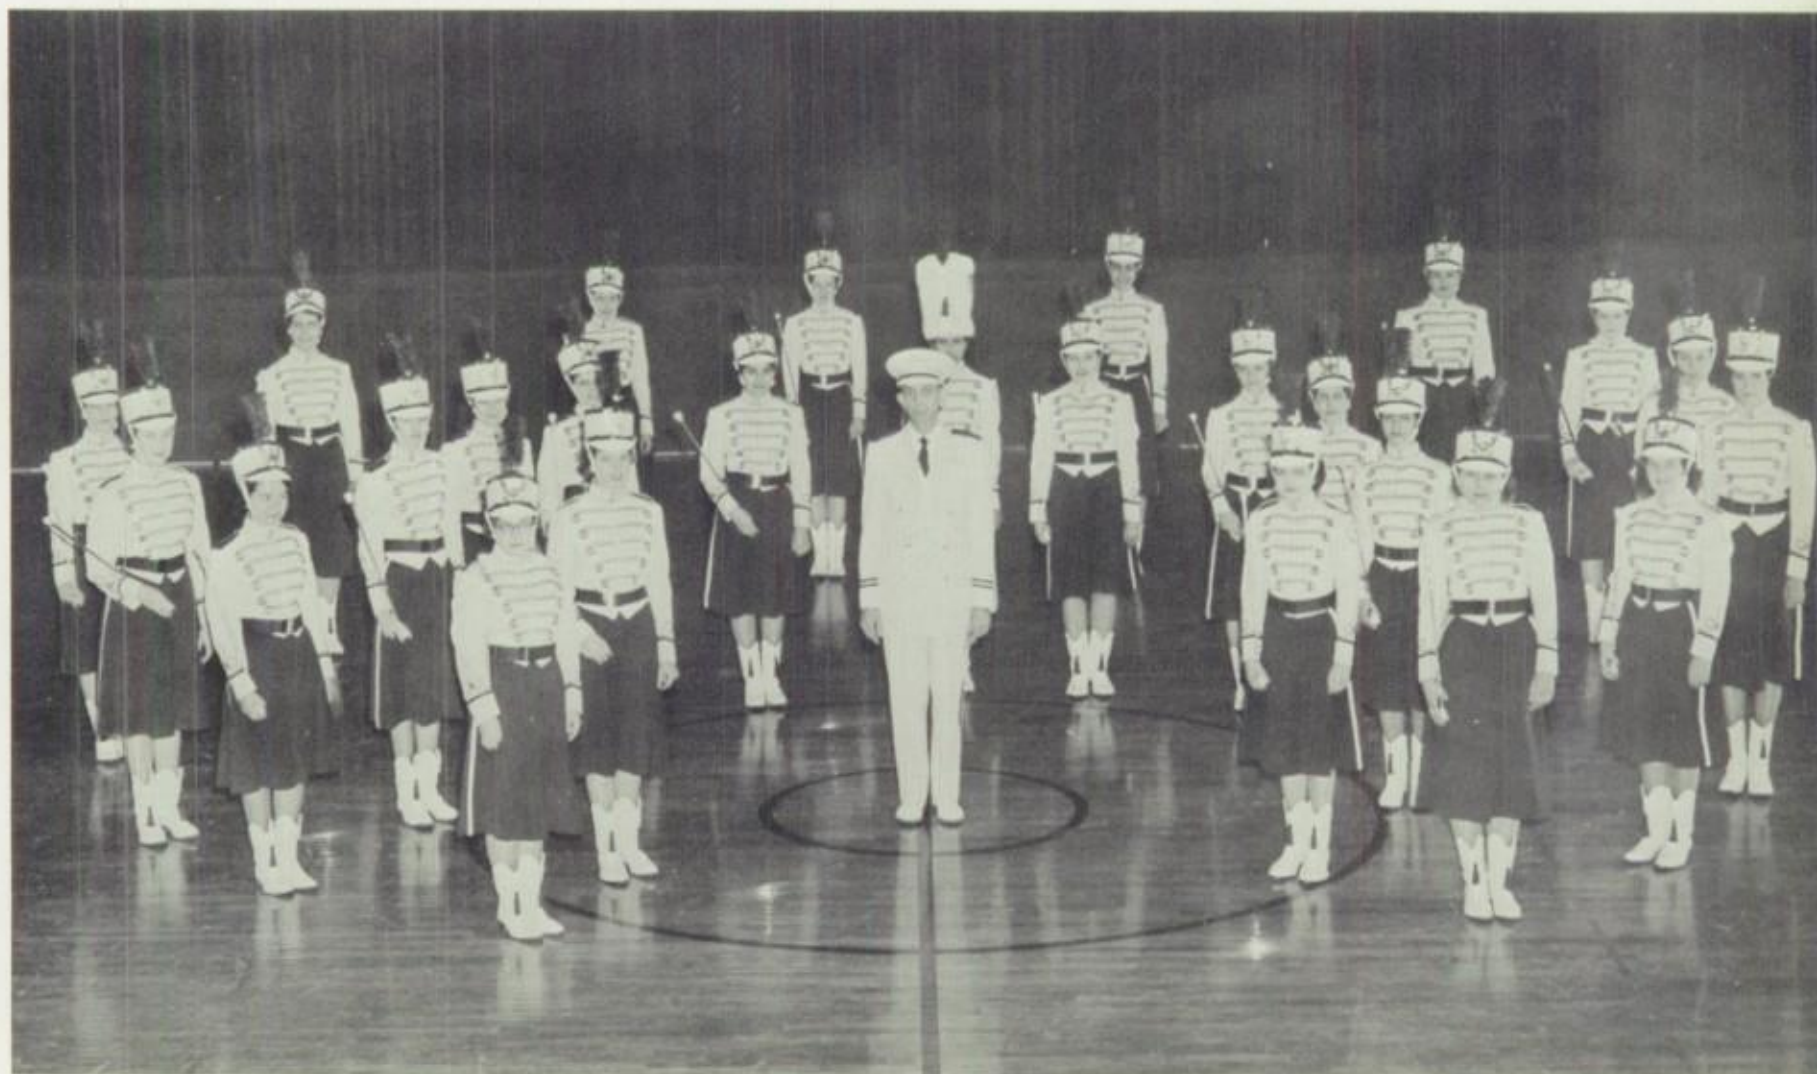

MR. RALPH EDWARDS, Majorette Instructor

BAND AND MAJORETTES — PERFORM IN A SPLENDID ARRAY OF MUSICAL TALENT

Satisfying the craze of teenagers for popular music, E. Martz, G. Sadoski, R. Knapik, J. Brennan, R. Leffler, P. Brennan, and P. Zalanowski comprise a most entertaining feature of our music department. Exemplifying their talent of harmonious blending our prized combo paves the way for musically inclined aspirants.

With vivacious suppleness these twinkle-toed twirlers are willingly put through their paces by their efficient instructor, Mr. Edwards. Participants in this agile assemblage are: K. Gates, R. Kokoles, S. Rosini, S. Ledzinski, M. J. McGlynn, J. Leshinskie, J. Butkey, B. Waraksa, J. Roma, J. Palacz, J. Gaughan, M. More, R. Pedro, C. Rovito, A. Wysocki, M. Schaffer, M. Pesansky, J. Pstroch, M. Flanagan, M. Procopio, K. McAlanis, C. Lamey, C. Warshefski, M. Scandle.

GLEE CLUB

MELLOW VOICES FROM THE HEART

Under the direction of Sister Margaret Anthony, the newly formed Lourdes Glee Club performs at various school functions. Heeding the words of the proverb, "Practice Makes Perfect," these selected upperclassmen devote every moment of their free time to practice in order to keep their harmony at full pace. To qualify as a member of the Glee Club, each voice must be tested individually by Sister Margaret Anthony, who in turn decides whether or not the student possesses vocal ability. Together with vocal ability, the ingredients of willingness and enthusiasm are also necessary. Working in conjunction with the Latin Club, in the Christmas Play, the Glee Club presented various novelty tunes, and the traditional Christmas Carols. The Hi-Lite of their performances, each year, is the Spring Musicales in which this outstanding group lightens the hearts of the audience.

Dancing and singing to the folk songs of Poland, H. Marhefka, F. Ziemba, D. Konetski, F. Durdock, and B. Malinoski captivated the patronage of the Spring Festival. Their diligent preparation of Polish pronunciation and perfect harmony resulted in a successful showing at the musicale.

Tickling the ivories, J. Brennan and K. Gabora demonstrate their musical abilities as pianists of the music department. As accompanists for Glee Club and Assembly programs, they add to the spirit of musical enjoyment.

The silver-toned songsters of O.L.O.L.'s Glee Club, under the supervision of Sister Margaret Anthony, enrapture the hearts of its listeners, as the talented choraleers provide entertainment for assemblies and the climaxing event of the year, the annual "Spring Musicale." The accomplished tunesters exemplify the cultural pursuits of the students.

Under the direction of Mr. Albert Carsto, the golden voices of our renowned Glee Club supplement the solemnity of Commencement exercises.

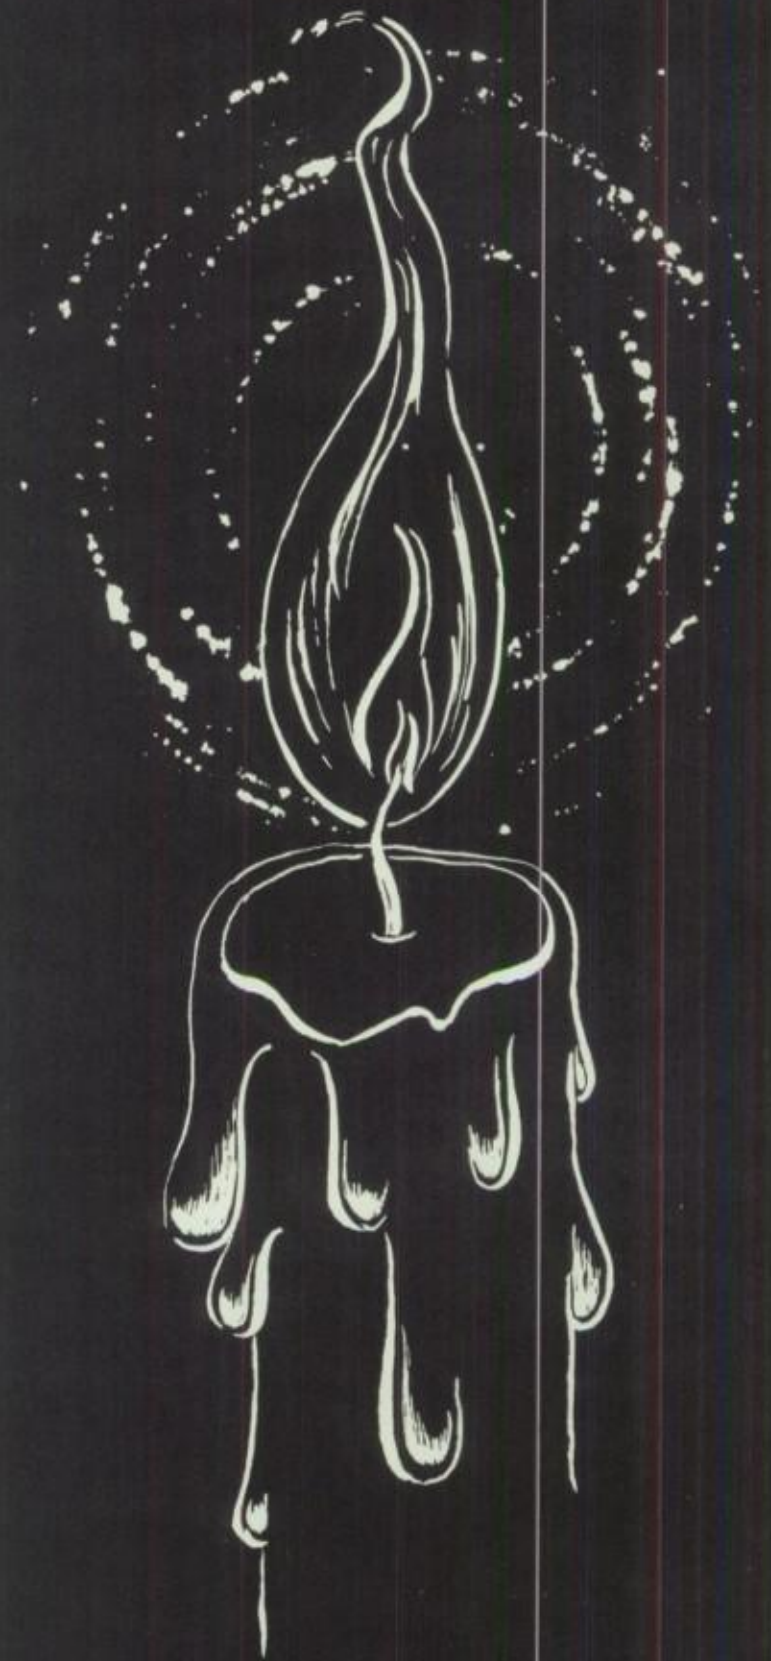

G. Pedrosa and T. Pedrosa, belles from our southern continent, blend voices harmoniously to the stringed accompaniment of R. Avellino. Strains of South America folk songs echoed throughout the gymnasium for the enjoyment of the audience.

"So let your light shine before men" . . . We again beg of thee O, Immaculate Mother, to assist us in fulfilling this command of your loving Son . . . Grant that we who have been the recipients of a sound Catholic education may preserve our gift of faith through this journey of life so full of dangers to our souls . . . Intercede for us that our virtue of hope so enlivened by the reception of the Sacraments may never be dimmed by fears, doubts and discouragement . . . Increase within us the gift of charity that our love for God, our Country and our fellowmen may inspire us to noble deeds in their behalf.

Teach us O loving Mother, thy Marylike way so that our works may indeed glorify God, our heavenly Father.

DISTINGUISHED HONORS

A challenge and a victory! To these scholastic leaders the challenge was met with reward. Top notch work during high school years has earned for them the title of distinguished honor students. Behind the pomp and glory of the title lies its real meaning—a desire to excel and a great amount of work and effort to maintain an average of over ninety percent throughout all four years of high school. This scholastic success is their preparation to meet the modern world and carry out the principles of their Catholic faith and education. They deserve the respect and admiration of their teachers and friends. To these students is given the added distinction of being listed as the first Honor Students of Our Lady of Lourdes.
